Breathtaking views in the Black Mountains

Head for the sky with this itinerary – and enjoy a walk to the highest Castle ruins in Wales followed by an afternoon watching the skilled pilots of the Black Mountains Gliding Club soar along the mountain ridges.

Start the morning with a drive to the car park of the Castle Inn at Pengefnffordd on the A479 between Talgarth and Crickhowell where you can leave your car. Leave the car park at the Talgarth end close to the information board and follow the path up to Castell Dinas high on the ridge above you. The site was originally an Iron Age Hill fort with a later fortified Norman Castle built on the site. Although the remains are now crumbling – the views into the Black Mountains and over Talgarth towards the Brecon Beacons have surely stayed just as good!.

The round trip will take about an hour for an averagely fit person and there are some fantastic ridge walks that can be continued from Castell Dinas if you fancy going a little further. If you visit at the weekend – you could take your lunch at the Castle Inn – if not you could take a picnic or return to Talgarth to find lunch.

After lunch visit the Black Mountains Gliding Club. Set at 970 feet above sea level it is said to be the UK's best ridge and wave gliding club – and it is fascinating to watch the gliders being towed up and then released to soar with the birds. Those feeling intrepid could also plan and book a trial lesson and get the full experience!

Walk up to Castell Dinas and enjoy the views as a reward for your labours.

Either lunch at the Castle Inn, Pengefnfford or return to Talgarth to find lunch.

Visit the Black Mountains Gliding Club and either watch an afternoon's soaring – or if you have pre-booked enjoy a trial lesson.
